Federal Loans
Description	Disbursed Amount	Fees	Total Borrowed Amount
Graduate PLUS Loan	$21,313.00	$951.00	$22,264.00
Fed Stafford Loan-Unsubsidized	$10,141.00	$109.00	$10,250.00
Federal Loans Subtotal	$31,454.00	$1,060.00	$32,514.00

The loans listed above represent the total amount of money you have borrowed through student loans while attending Duke University. Some of your student loans will accrue interest while you are in school. The accumulated cost of this interest will be added to your principal balance after you graduate. For this reason, the balance of your loan when you begin repayment will be higher than the Loan Total shown here.

The Total Borrowed Amount represents the original principal balance of the loan. The Disbursed Amount is the amount that actually disbursed to your Bursar account. If the disbursed amount is lower than the borrowed amount, your lender subtracted your loan fees from the disbursement. Your fees are listed in the middle column.

Federal Student Loans offer a number of repayment options, and depending on your employment, you may be eligible for loan forgiveness.

Use this Repayment Estimator to estimate your federal loan payment under different repayment plans.

When considering a repayment plan, it is important to consider both interest cost, and the required monthly payment.

For more information about your loan and where to make your payments, log into NSLDS (National Student Loan Data System).
